

TECHNICAL INFORMATION SHEET

SRA 6200

SRA 6200 is a multi-purpose, medium duty, silicone mould release agent. It is based on silicones and has been formulated as a highly effective, multi-purpose release agent for most waxes, plastics and rubber moulding purposes.

SRA 6200 provides a medium duty film for release of wax, plastic and rubber parts in injection moulding, compression moulding, vacuum forming and many other moulding and forming processes. It will not build up in the mould and helps to improve surface finish, reduce rejects and increases production. Fitted with 360° spray system for use at any angle, even upside down.

Shake well before use, spray a light even coating from 9" – 12" (25 – 30 cm) and re-apply as necessary.
